S H O R E S O F L O C I

Introducing SkyHaven, the new journey beyond imagination in Shores of Loci

Available for purchase on Meta starting on February 12th, 2025

Los Angeles, CA – [February, 2025] – MikeTeevee is excited to announce the next chapter in Shores of Loci: SkyHaven. With a brand new horizon to explore, SkyHaven ushers players into a harmonious future filled with your favorite familiar little characters and their now evolving civilizations. In harmony with nature, their castle in the sky harnesses the sun and wind to foster sustainability, leaving space for permaculture farmland and cinematic horizons. The newest surreal world to join Shores of Loci will transport you to other dimensions to create visions larger than life. Launching soon on Meta Quest, and later on Steam, SkyHaven takes players on an awe-inspiring VR adventure into harmonious futures and breathtaking dimensions.

But while we create new worlds to explore, we never lose sight of the one we all share. Our hearts are with the Los Angeles communities facing the heartbreaking reality of lost homes, cherished belongings, and the long road to recovery after devastating fires. In times like these, coming together matters more than ever. That's why MikeTeevee is donating 1% of SkyHaven's proceeds to support recovery efforts, helping those impacted as they rebuild and restore what was lost.

The original Shores of Loci, released in 2022, garnered critical acclaim for its artistic polish and meditative gameplay. After listening closely to our passionate community's desire for a deeper, more extensive experience, SkyHaven represents our most ambitious expansion yet. This new chapter significantly extends the journey with enhanced gameplay mechanics and expansive new worlds to explore, delivering the richer, longer experience our players have been asking for.

"Creating meaningful content takes time," says Ellen Utrecht, Executive Producer. "We've spent these years crafting not just more puzzles, but a deeper, more immersive experience that honors our community's feedback. As our studio's roots in Los Angeles make the city's recovery personal for us, we never imagined how timely SkyHaven's themes of rebuilding and community would become. We hope this new chapter can offer both a momentary escape and inspiration for reimagining our communities."

SkyHaven maximizes VR's immersive potential, offering players a chance to build vast, surreal worlds, all while experiencing stunning visuals, intuitive gameplay, and a transcendent soundscape.

This experience is a portal to other dimensions, designed to expand your imagination and create visions larger than life.

About Creative Director Christian Holland

Christian Holland (SUBHOLLAND) is a 360° Visual Artist from the American Midwest, now based in Los Angeles. With nearly a decade of experience as a 3D, visual, and motion artist, he has collaborated with renowned clients, artists, and studios on global commercial projects, campaigns, and exhibitions. His personal work fuses vibrant landscapes, futuristic technology, and eco-conscious architecture.

“As someone who loves to build worlds myself, this was the perfect opportunity to imagine greener horizons in a whole new interactive way. This one blossomed from a personal place as an attempt to tap into something ancestral. A lot of my genetic lineage traces back to North/North Western Europe, long ago. This has always been a mysterious aspect of my life. The Shores of Loci universe was the perfect fit to explore these ideas I've had in my head about peaceful "Sky Vikings" living in the future, and how their civilizations may nomadically exist in eco-conscious/playful ways. A lot of the ships and architecture are inspired from ancient Viking Long Boats and architecture, with sod roofs and windmills top top it all off. Without the limitations of VR technology, we would have taken it so much further. One day!” - Christian Holland

About Shores of Loci

Shores of Loci debuted in 2022 as a VR puzzle game and quickly became renowned for its artistic polish, meditative gameplay, and enchanting storytelling. Loved by players of all ages, it's a peaceful, single-player journey rated E for Everyone by the ESRB. With SkyHaven, the Shores of Loci universe grows even richer, introducing new challenges and worlds to explore.
